“For this reason, and well aware of the seriousness of this act, with full freedom I declare that I renounce the ministry of Bishop of Rome, Successor of Saint Peter, entrusted to me by the Cardinals on 19 April 2005, in such a way, that as from 28 February 2013, at 20:00 hours, the See of Rome, the See of Saint Peter, will be vacant and a Conclave to elect a new Supreme Pontiff will have to be convoked by those whose competence it is.”—Pope Benedict XVI’s Renunciation of the Papacy, 11 February 2013

FEBRUARY IS THE MONTH OF THE HOLY FAMILY

Pastor's Note

(Front cover: Pope Benedict shocked the world on February 11th when he told the Consistory of Cardinals that he was renouncing his Papal Office as of the end of this month. He cited his advanced age and failing strength as the reasons.)

THE REIGN OF BENEDICT XVI, 265th POPE OF THE UNIVERSAL CHURCH, A.D. 2005-2013

Few world events really catch us by surprise as did Pope Benedict XVI's low-key announcement before his Cardinals this past Monday that he was renouncing his Papal Office. The news media has struggled to find precedents for such a resignation in Church history but there really has not been a papal resignation quite like it. The nearest point of reference is the dramatic renunciation of Pope Celestine V in A.D. 1294, who reigned as Pope for only a few months. But in this case, Pope Celestine was so obviously out of his depth, the governance of the Church so thrown into chaos by his ineptitude, that his voluntary resignation was a relief.

Pope Benedict's case is not at all like this. He has governed the Church ably as her Chief Pastor for nearly eight years, steering the barque of Peter with grace and courage through the inevitable stormy waters of human events. He has done—efficiently, cleanly, and without drama—what has been noised about for quite some time: given the modern demands of the Papacy, could or should a Pope resign if he finds himself no longer up to the task? Pope Benedict has answered for himself in the affirmative. And he has done so in such a way that it causes no crisis or state-of-emergency in the Church. A papal reign will quietly end; a conclave of Cardinals will be duly held, and a new Pope elected. The mission of the Church goes on.

How poignant that the Holy Father should have chosen the Feast of Lourdes, February 11th, designated by John Paul II as the World Day of the Sick, for his historic announcement. It is as if he is enrolling himself now among the Suffering Sick in the Body of the Church, who serve the Church no less with their prayer and suffering. Also, the official observance of this year's World Day of the Sick was held at the Marian Shrine of Altötting, Austria. This shrine is near to the Pope's boyhood home in Bavaria. In his Memoir Milestones (1997) he writes of it: "And I must not forget to note that Marktl [his birthplace] is very close to Altötting, the venerable and ancient Marian Shrine dating from the Carolingian era, which since the Middle Ages has become the great pilgrimage site for Bavaria and western Austria. Just in those years [1920s] Altötting received new renown with the beatification and then the canonization of Brother Konrad Parzham (1818-1894), a Capuchin who had been porter of his monastery. In this humble and thoroughly kind man we saw what is best in our people embodied and led by faith to its most beautiful possibilities. I have often reflected since then on this remarkable disposition of Providence: that in the century of progress and faith in science, the Church should have found herself represented most clearly in very simple people, in a Bernadette of Lourdes, for instance, or even in a Brother Konrad, who hardly seemed to be touched by the currents of the time...I do think that precisely these "little" saints are a great sign to our time, a sign that moves me ever more deeply, the more I live with and in our time."

(Fr. Higgins)

A Prayer Shawl Ministry

When stitching a prayer shawl, we are petitioning God with every stitch we make. For that reason, Mary Immaculate of Lourdes has started a prayer shawl ministry. The completed shawls will be offered to those in need of comfort.

We are looking for volunteers who can knit or crochet. A meeting will take place on Sunday February 24th at 1pm in the lower rectory conference room explaining the ministry.

If you would like to learn these techniques lessons will be available at no charge.

All ages are welcome!

LATIN MASS TEXTS

Traditional Propers

First Sunday In Lent

Vestments: Violet

INTROIT: Psalm 90: 15-16 He shall cry to me, and I will hear him: I will deliver him, and I will glorify him: I will fill him with length of days. Psalm 90:1 He that dwelleth in the aid of the Most High shall abide under the protection of the God of Heaven. V. Glory be to the Father.

COLLECT O God, who dost purify Thy Church by the yearly observance of forty days; grant to Thy household that what we strive to obtain from Thee by self denial, we may secure by good works. Through our Lord.

EPISTLE: 2 Corinthians 6: 1-10 Brethren: We exhort you that you receive not the grace of God in vain. For He saith: In an accepted time have I heard thee, and in the day of salvation have I helped thee. Behold, now is the acceptable time, behold now is the day of salvation. Giving no offence to any man that our ministry be not blamed: but in all things let us exhibit ourselves as the ministers of God, in much patience, in tribulation, in necessities, in distresses, in stripes, in prisons, in seditions, in labours, in watchings, in fastings, in chastity, in knowledge, in longsuffering, in sweetness, in the Holy Ghost, in charity unfeigned, in the word of truth, in the power of God: by the armour of justice on the right hand and on the left: by honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: as deceivers and yet true, as unknown and yet known: as dying, and behold we live: as chastised and not killed: as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing: as needy, yet enriching many: as having nothing and possessing all things.

GRADUAL: Psalm 90: 11-12 God hath given His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. In their hands they shall bear thee up, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone.

TRACT: Psalm 90: 1-7, 11-16 He that dwelleth in the aid of the Most High, shall abide under the protection of the God of heaven. V. He shall say to the Lord: Thou art my protector and my refuge: my God, in Him will I trust. V. For He hath delivered me from the scare of the hunters, and from the sharp word. V. He will overshadow thee with His shoulders, and under His wings thou shalt trust. V. His truth shall compass thee with a shield: thou shalt not be afraid of the terror of the night. V. Of the arrow that flieth in the day, of the business that walketh about in the dark, of invasion or of the noonday devil. V. A thousand shall fall at thy side and ten thousand at thy right hand: but it shall not come nigh thee. V. For He hath given His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways. V. In their hands they shall bear thee up, lest thou dash thy foot against a stone. V. Thou shalt walk upon the asp and the basilisk, and thou shalt trample under foot the lion and the dragon. V. Because he hoped in Me I will deliver him: I will protect him, because he hath known My name. V. He shall cry to Me, and I will hear him: I am with him in tribulation. V. I will deliver him, and I will glorify him: I will fill him with length of days, and I will show him My salvation.

GOSPEL: Matthew 4: 1-11 At time Jesus was led by the Spirit into the desert, to be tempted by the devil. And when He had fasted forty days and forty nights, afterwards He was hungry. And the tempter coming said to Him: If Thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread. Who answered and said: It is written: Not in bread alone doth man live, but in every word that proceedeth from the mouth of God. Then the devil took Him up into the holy city and set Him upon the pinnacle of the temple, and said to Him: If Thou be the Son of God, cast Thyself down. For it is written: That He hath given His angels charge over Thee, and in their hands shall they bear Thee up, lest perhaps Thou dash Thy foot against a stone. Jesus said to him: It is written again: Thou shalt not tempt the Lord Thy God. Again the devil took Him up into a very high mountain and showed Him all the kingdoms of the world and the glory of them, and said to Him: All these will I give Thee, if falling down Thou wilt adore me. Then Jesus saith to him: Be gone, Satan! For it is written: The Lord thy God shalt thou adore, and Him only shalt thou serve. Then the devil left Him: and behold angels came, and ministered to Him.

OFFERTORY: Psalm 90: 4-5 The Lord will overshadow thee with His shoulders, and under His wings thou shalt trust: His truth shall compass thee with a shield.

SECRET We solemnly offer Thee, O Lord, the sacrifice of the beginning of Lent, beseeching Thee, that by refraining from flesh at our meals, we may learn also to avoid sinful pleasures. Through our Lord.

COMMUNION: Psalm 90: 4-5 The Lord will overshadow thee with His shoulders, and under His wings thou shalt trust: His truth shall compass thee with a shield.

POSTCOMMUNION May the holy partaking of Thy sacrament, restore us, O Lord, and cleansing us from our old life, make us to pass into the fellowship of the mystery of salvation. Through our Lord.
