AUGUST IS THE MONTH OF THE IMMACULATE HEART OF MARY

FRONT COVER:
A holy card of Our Lady: 'Make me, O Mary, docile and obedient to the voice of the Lord.' The beautiful summer flowers are symbols of Our Lady's virtues. The month of August contains the Solemnity of Our Lady's Assumption into Heaven (AUGUST 15th) as well as the Feast of Mary's Immaculate Heart (AUGUST 22nd).

forty days after giving birth for her Purification in order to fulfill the precepts of the Old Law of Moses. (This feast is celebrated each year on February 2nd, Candlemas Day.) The aspect of purification has of course been abolished with the New Testament, and in the Christian dispensation is now replaced with the prayer of thanksgiving and petition to God.

In the ceremony the new mother carries a lighted candle. This candle symbolizes the good works by which she should express her gratitude to God and also her mother's good example by which others around her are drawn to love what is good and true. The priest prays from the Ritual as follows:

Almighty, Everlasting God, who through the delivery of the Blessed Virgin Mary, hast turned the pains of the faithful at childbirth into joy: look mercifully on this Thy handmaid, who cometh in gladness to Thy holy temple to offer up her thanks: and grant that after this life, through the merits and intercession of the same Blessed Virgin Mary, she may prove worthy to obtain, together with her offspring, the joys of everlasting happiness. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

How beautifully and touchingly this ceremony brings out the connection of a mother's love to that of the Divine goodness. In the words of St. Bernard of Clairvaux, here are the blessings of a good and godly mother:

Blessed is the man whose infancy has been watched over, kindled, penetrated by the eye of a tender and holy mother. That glance has a magical power over the soul of the child; it beams forth sweetness and life; and, as the sun's rays mature the fruits of the earth, and sweeten them by the communication of its own substance, so does the mother deposit, in the soul of this child, the sacred character of love.

(Fr. Higgins)

Pastor's Note

A MOTHER'S THANKSGIVING

Last Saturday, July 27th, we celebrated the happy occasion of the christening of baby Clement Bernard Melicourt Pappin, the son of parishioners Gladden and Jeanette Pappin. Before the baptismal ceremony began, Mrs. Pappin asked for the blessing of a new mother according to the "Churching of Women" found in the pre-1970 Ritual.

This worthy custom is the new mother's thanksgiving to God for the safe delivery of her child and it readies her to be that channel of grace for raising the child in a godly way. In the revised Roman Ritual approved by Pope Paul VI the Churching of Women is condensed into the prayer of blessing for the mother and child at the conclusion of the Sacrament of Baptism, and therefore the distinctiveness of the mother's thanksgiving is obscured.

The old "Churching of Women" ceremony recalls how Mary went to the Temple of Jerusalem with St. Joseph and the Christ Child

SCRIPTURE STUDY COLUMN

GOSPEL OF SAINT LUKE BIBLE STUDY Luke 1:67-80, Part 2 The Benedictus

In last week's notes, I wrote about the context of Zechariah's prayer (the Benedictus), namely, the birth of his son, St. John the Baptist. I also focused on the first line of the prayer, in which Zechariah ascribes to God two great acts: His real presence among them in the person of the coming Messiah ("He has visited...His people"), and redemption ("He has brought redemption"). In today's column, I would like to explore the historical background of the rest of the prayer. As the Ignatius Study Bible notes, Zechariah interprets the birth of his son in light of God's two great covenants with Israel: the covenant with Abraham, and the covenant with David. In other words, Zechariah perceives that God's ancient promises are coming true. Zechariah likewise lucidly demonstrates exactly who Christ is by referencing and commenting on these covenants.

In the Abrahamic covenant (cf. Gen.12, 15, 17), God elected Abraham and his descendants to be a collective vessel of blessing for all other nations. Ultimately, this meant that they would have a special liturgical and ethical relationship with the one true God, and provide the way for other pagan nations to come into communion with him, as well. In view of this covenant, (which he references in v. 73), Zechariah praises God in vv. 74-75, because "rescued from the hand of enemies, without fear we might worship him in holiness and righteousness before him all our days." This is what the Jews were able to do at Mt. Sinai after being delivered from Pharaoh (cf. Ex. 14, 19), and it is what they have continued to do for centuries: worship God and follow His law.

In Jesus, Christians share in God's life and love in the fullest way when they believe and follow the teachings of His Church, and receive His grace in the Church's liturgical worship and the sacraments. Like Abraham, we are called to share this relationship with God with others who do not know or love Him. According to St. Paul, the fact that non-Jews (Gentiles) can have an intimate relationship with the one, true God, is the principal realization of the Abrahamic covenant (cf. Gal. 3).

In the Davidic covenant, (cf. 2 Sam. 7, Ps. 89), God promised King David that he would have an heir whose kingdom would never end, and who would secure lasting peace for his people. Zechariah praises God for the fulfillment of this covenant in vv. 69-72, (explicitly mentioning King David in v. 69), explaining that, "He has raised up a horn for our salvation within the house of David His servant, even as He promised through the mouth of His holy prophets from of old, salvation from our enemies and from the hand of all who hate us, to show mercy to our fathers..." In King David's time, Israel's enemies were surrounding pagan nations that were morally corrupt and militarily aggressive. David's renown stems from his subjugation of the surrounding enemies, and the resulting era of peace that was unequaled at any other time in Israel's history.

Our enemies are not fellow human beings, but the world, the flesh, and the devil, all three of which are renounced in baptism, and again at confirmation. The devil is the source of all evil, because he tempts us to sin against the commandments. He incites our disordered desires (the "flesh") and entices us to love the pleasures and temporal things of life (the "world") more than God. Jesus has fulfilled the Davidic covenant by saving us from the world, the flesh, and the devil by His sacrificial death and resurrection. As the risen king, he ushers in an eternal kingdom of peace through power of his forgiveness, having destroyed the power of the devil (cf. 1 John 3:8, Col. 2:12-15). According to Zechariah in vv. 77-79, we can have first-hand "knowledge of salvation through the forgiveness of [our] sins" through Jesus the Messiah. Jesus shows us "tender mercy" and "guide(s) our feet into the path of peace."

LATIN MASS TEXTS

Traditional Propers

Eleventh Sunday After Pentecost

Vestments: Green

INTROIT: Psalm 67: 6-7, 36 God in His holy place; God who maketh men of one mind to dwell in a house: He shall give power and strength to His people. Psalm 67: 2. Let God arise, and let His enemies be scattered: and let them that hate Him flee from before His face. V. Glory be to the Father.

COLLECT Almighty and eternal God, who in the abundance of Thy loving kindness art wont to give beyond the deserts and desires of those who humbly pray; pour down upon us Thy mercy, forgiving us these things of which our conscience is afraid, and granting us those blessings which we dare not presume to ask. Through our Lord.

EPISTLE: 1 Corinthians 15: 1-10

Brethren: I make known unto you the gospel which I preached to you, which also you have received, and wherein you stand, by which also you are saved, if you hold fast after what manner I preached unto you, unless you have believed in vain. For I delivered unto you first of all, which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins according to the Scriptures; and that He was buried, and that He rose again the third day according to the Scriptures; and that He was seen by Cephas, and after that by the eleven. Then was He seen by more than five hundred brethren at once; of whom many remain until this present, and some are fallen asleep. After that He was seen by James then by all the apostles. And last of all He was seen also by me, as by one born out of due time. For I am the least of the apostles, who am not worthy to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the am what I am; and His grace in me hath not been void.

GRADUAL: Psalm 27: 7, 1 In God hath my heart confided, and I have been helped; and my flesh hath flourished again; and with my will I will give praise to Him. V. Unto Thee will I cry, O Lord: O my God, be not Thou silent; depart not from me.

ALLELUIA: Psalm 80: 2-3 Alleluia, alleluia. V. Rejoice to God our helper; sing aloud to the God of Jacob; take a pleasant psalm with the harp. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Mark 7: 31-37 At that time, Jesus going out of the coasts of Tyre, came by Sidon to the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of Decapolis. And they bring to Him one deaf and dumb, and they besought Him that He would lay His hand upon him. And taking him from the multitude apart, He put His fingers into his ears, and spitting, He touched his tongue; and looking up to heaven, He groaned and said to him: Ephphetha, which is, Be thou opened: and immediately his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spoke right. And He charged them that they should tell no man: but the more He charged them so much the more a great deal did they publish it; and so much the more did they wonder, saying: He hath done all things well; He hath made both the deaf to hear and the dumb to speak.

OFFERTORY: Psalm 29: 2-3 I will extol Thee, O Lord, for Thou hast upheld me; and hast not made my enemies to rejoice over me: O Lord, I have cried to Thee, and Thou hast healed me.

SECRET Look down in mercy upon our service, we beseech Thee, O Lord, that the gifts we offer may be acceptable unto Thee, and a support in our weakness. Through our Lord.

Preface of the Holy Trinity

COMMUNION: Proverbs 3: 9-10
Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the first of all thy fruits: and thy barns shall be filled with abundance, and thy presses shall run over with wine.

POSTCOMMUNION Having received Thy holy sacrament, we beseech Thee, O Lord, that we may feel supported in soul and body; that being saved in both, we may glory in the fullness of the heavenly remedy. Through our Lord.

No where is this more true than in the Sacrament of Confession: this is where the rubber hits the road for all of us! (John 20:23, 1 John 1:9).
