SEPTEMBER IS THE MONTH OF OUR LADY OF SORROWS

FRONT COVER: The Seven Sorrows of the Blessed Virgin Mary, attributed to Adriaen Isenbrandt, +1551 A.D. The Seven Sorrows of the Blessed Virgin Mary are as follows: 1) The Prophecy of Simeon (Luke 2:34-35); 2) The Flight into Egypt (Matthew 2:13-21); 3) The Loss of Jesus for Three Days (Luke 2:41-50); 4) The Ascent to Calvary (John 19:17); 5) The Crucifixion and Death of Jesus (John 19:18-30); 6) Jesus Taken Down from the Cross (John 19:39-40); and 7) Jesus Laid in the Tomb (John 19:40-42).

Pastor's Note

THE VOICE OF JEREMIAH

In the Old Testament of the Bible the Prophet Jeremiah has the unhappy duty of delivering the bad news of what is about to befall Jerusalem and the whole Jewish Nation. Since his warnings go unheeded, the worst predictions come true to the letter. The city of Jerusalem is taken by storm: the Temple of Solomon is destroyed: much of the surviving population is herded off into slavery in Babylon.

Since Jeremiah is such a doleful figure in the Old Testament history, his name has become a byword for any denunciatory complaint or tirade: a jeremiad.

Recently the New York Times Book Review published a review of the latest book by Boston University Professor Andrew J. Bacevich, a book entitled Breach of Trust: How Americans Failed Their Soldiers and Their Country. It would seem this book deserves the title of a jeremiad, for it is unsparing in its calling out of many of his fellow Americans for lending their support to the wars our all-volunteer military has been sent into these past twelve years. Professor Bacevich is a retired colonel, a Vietnam combat veteran, and a West Point graduate. His son First Lt. Andrew John Bacevich was killed in combat north of Baghdad in 2007.

As his reviewer says: The visceral depth of his disgust for war itself—“an unvarnished evil”—is matched only by his insistence that we stop expressing corporate-manufactured, guilt assuaging “support” for the troops, and instead that we actually love them in the most elemental way: by protecting them from harm.

In light of the present crises around the civil war in Syria and another likely US military intervention, we would do well to heed such a jeremiad. Again, I quote from the review:

What is successful is the persuasiveness of Bacevich's argument—through this and his last several books—that we try to use the United States military against problems that have no military solution, and in ways that exacerbate our inclination to overuse it in the first place. In “Breach of Trust”...Bacevich dismantles the warrior myth we civilians and politicians so enjoy worshipping from afar, and replaces that idol with flesh and blood, vulnerable humans, who deserve better than the profligate, wasteful way in which we treat them.

GOSPEL OF SAINT LUKE BIBLE STUDY Luke 2:22-38 Part 2

In last week's column, I discussed the significance of Christ's Presentation and Mary's Purification in the Temple, as well as Simeon's canticle. This week, I would like to explore the meaning of Simeon's prophetic words to Mary following his canticle, as well St. Luke's inclusion of Anna at the end of this narrative.

Simeon tells Mary that Christ "is destined for the fall and rise of many in Israel, and to be a sign that will be contradicted" (v. 34). Sobering words to hear about your gurgling little baby, to say the least! They are totally in line, however, with Mary's own revelation about her Son in the Magnificat. In 1:51-53, Mary prophesies that God has reversed the fortunes of the rich and the poor, the powerful and the weak. What both Simeon and Mary know is that Jesus will manifest His divine power over the works of the devil, casting him down, and will associate Himself with those in both spiritual and physical need, ministering to them with authentic compassion and solidarity.

What shall we make of Simeon's ascription, "sign of contradiction"? Likewise, why does he tell Mary that her own heart would be pierced, and that these two things would cause "the thoughts of many hearts [to] be revealed" (v. 35)? Many commentators (including Bl. John Paul II) agree that Simeon is foretelling the Passion, which will reveal where people stand in relation to Christ: either as faithful and repentant disciples, or as those who oppose His divine claims and shout "Crucify Him, crucify Him!" Thus, Simeon likewise speaks directly to the fact that the crucifixion will tear Mary's soul to shreds, as the death of any child does for a mother. Our Catholic theological tradition holds that there is more here, though, than the anguish of a mother-son bond being destroyed by outside forces.

The Church teaches, and so we believe, that through her anguish beside the cross of her Son, Mary participated in Christ's redeeming work for all mankind in a preeminent way (Catechism of the Catholic Church nos. 968-970). By consenting to the Father's plan in Christ, she participated through her intercession, indeed, through her very being, in the all-sufficient redemptive sacrifice of Calvary, joining her motherly sacrifice to that of her Son. Now that Christ is risen and glorified, and the merits of his death and resurrection are applied to human souls through the Church, Mary continues to be associated with her Son's work. She is rightly called the Mother of the Church, because she cares so deeply for the souls of all of those for whom her Son died. What a thrilling consolation- far from holding the death of her Son against us, Mary greatly delights in drawing us, through her prayers, to the full life of redemption and salvation that her Son has won for us! Thanks be to God! In the Byzantine Divine Liturgy, there is an antiphonal refrain in the Liturgy of the Word that summarizes this truth so eloquently and simply: "Through the prayers of the Mother of God, O Savior, save us!" What a wonderfully fitting (and easy!) prayer to remember as we prepare ourselves for Mass, which is the re-presentation of Calvary.

Now a word about Anna. St. Luke tells us that Anna was the female counterpart to Simeon. Deeply prayerful and full of the Holy Spirit, she recognized Jesus as the long-awaited Messiah, and prophesied about Him to all the people in Jerusalem (vv. 37-38). In first century Palestine, the opinion of women was often discounted as either unreliable or irrelevant. For St. Luke to mention Anna at all was to push against the social conventions of his day. It also indicates that the primitive Church enhanced the dignity of women, because it considered their witness to the Gospel just as valuable as that of men, as the Orthodox Study Bible indicates. All of us, whether male or female, have equal dignity before God. Each of us has unique gifts from the Holy Spirit by virtue of our baptism and confirmation, by which we may testify to our faith in Jesus Christ (Catechism nos. 768, 798-801, 1266, 1303). (David Allen)

"MARY'S MANTLES" PRAYER SHAWL MINISTRY: A PRAYERFUL REQUEST

"Mary's Mantles" is a prayer-shawl ministry which began January 27th, 2013. The knitters and crocheters have sent many blessed shawls throughout the parish and some states to ill people and children in need of comfort and prayers. At this time we are running low on shawls—we are asking our parishioners if any of you would consider knitting or crocheting a shawl or two to donate to our ministry by December 8th, as we are trying to compile enough to distribute to the residents of the Stone Institute for Christmas. You are welcome to come to our meetings on the 2nd and 4th Sundays of each month. If you are too busy, you can knit and crochet at your leisure. Thank you in advance for answering this request for help. Any questions? Please see Janet Pino after the 10:30 Sunday Holy Mass.

LATIN MASS TEXTS: Seventeenth Sunday After Pentecost (Green)

INTROIT: Psalm 118: 137, 124. Thou art just, O Lord, and Thy judgment is right; deal with Thy servant according to Thy mercy. Psalm 118: 1 Blessed are the undefiled in the way: who walk in the law of the Lord. V. Glory be to the Father...

COLLECT: Grant, O Lord, unto Thy people grace to withstand the temptations of the devil, and with pure minds follow Thee, the only God. Through our Lord.

EPISTLE: Ephesians 4:1-6 Brethren: I, a prisoner of the Lord, beseech you that you walk worthy of the vocation in which you are called. With all humility and mildness, with patience, supporting one another in charity, careful to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace. One body and one spirit, as you are called in one hope of your calling. One Lord, one faith, one baptism. One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in us all, who is blessed for ever and ever. Amen.

GRADUAL: Psalm 32: 12, 6 Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord: the people whom He hath chosen for His inheritance. V. By the word of the Lord the heavens were established; and all the power of them by the spirit of His mouth. ALLELUIA: Alleluia, alleluia. V. O Lord, hear my prayer; and let my cry come to Thee. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Matthew 22:34-46 At that time, the Pharisees came to Jesus, and one of them, a doctor of the Law, asked Him, tempting Him: which is the great commandment of the Law? Jesus said to him: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole soul and with thy whole mind. This is the greatest and first commandment. And the second is like to this: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments dependeth the whole Law and the prophets. And the Pharisees being gathered together, Jesus asked them, saying: what think you of Christ, whose son is He? They say to Him: David's. He saith to them: How then doth David, in spirit, call Him Lord, saying: the Lord said to my Lord: Sit on my right hand until I make Thy enemies Thy footstool? If David then call Him Lord, how is He his son? And no man was able to answer Him a word; neither durst any man, from that day forth, ask Him any more questions.

OFFERTORY: Daniel 9: 9, 10, 18, 19 I, Daniel, prayed to my God, saying: Hear, O Lord, the prayers of Thy servant; show Thy face upon Thy sanctuary, and favourably look down upon this people, upon whom Thy name is invoked, O God.

SECRET We humbly implore Thy majesty, O Lord, that the holy mysteries we are celebrating, may free us both from past sins and future transgressions. Through our Lord.

Preface of the Holy Trinity

COMMUNION: Psalm 75: 12-13 Vow ye, and pray to the Lord your God, all you that round about Him bring presents: to Him that is terrible, even to Him who taketh away the spirit of princes; to the terrible with all the kings of the earth.

POSTCOMMUNION By the grace of Thy sacraments, O almighty God, may our passions be subdued and our eternal salvation assured. Through our Lord.
