Pastor's Note

UPDATE ON DOMINIC PIO GUNDRUM

With the arrival of Christmas cards this year I received a lovely card from Mary Gundrum, the mother of the baby boy Dominic Pio Gundrum we prayed so hard for as a parish last Christmas, while Dominic was fighting for his life at Children's Hospital. Here is further good news on Dominic's development which Mary shared with us:

Father Higgins,

Here is a quick update on the little man you and your church family prayed into health: Dominic is doing great, he has learned how to crawl and cruises all over the house. Just yesterday he was fitted for a walker and surprised us all as he cruised around right away. He brings us so much joy, Father! You and your parish have been on my mind so much as we hit anniversaries of last year's events. What was the most bitter Christmas last year is now something I can look back on and see the true spirit and gift of Christmas—and that is love. My memories of last Christmas are of everyone's gifts of love and sacrifice they gave us. I hope your Christmas is filled with joy and peace, but mostly—love! Many blessings!

KNOW YOUR CATHOLIC FAITH

GOSPEL OF SAINT LUKE BIBLE STUDY

Luke 6:12-19

In this passage, St. Luke tells us that Jesus took some time to be alone in prayer with His Father, and not just for an hour or so, but for the entire night. I'm willing to bet that many of us do not utilize night-time hours for prayer when we lie awake in bed, unable to fall asleep. Instead, we're often worrying about what happened during the day, or about what might happen on the morrow. Why not pray a Divine Mercy Chaplet, or the Rosary? To understand exactly why Jesus spent the whole night in prayer (Jesus at prayer is a major recurring theme in Luke) we should look at what He did the following morning. In v. 13, St. Luke tells us that He chose his twelve disciples, "whom He also named apostles." In other words, Jesus began the foundation of His Church (cf. Eph. 2:20). This was a watershed moment in His mission to reach all mankind.

Perhaps we can imagine some of the things Jesus might have been thinking about as He prayed all night long: the strengths and weaknesses of these men, their faithlessness during his Passion, but ultimately, all the good they would later do after His Ascension. We must be especially conscious of the fact that Jesus chose both Peter and Judas with the full knowledge of what they would do to Him. Later in the Gospel, in 22:31-32, Jesus reveals some of the content of His prayers during the Last Supper. Here, He turns to Peter and says, "Simon, Simon, behold Satan has demanded to sift all of you as wheat, but I have prayed that your own faith may not fail; and once you have turned back, your must strengthen your brothers." Jesus is no pessimist, nor is He an optimist. He is a realist. He knows Peter is a sinner destined for sainthood. In particular, He highlights the importance of his pastoral charge for the rest of the Church.

This passage from the Last Supper is crucial in our understanding of the Petrine office, i.e., the papacy. Every pope is a sinner, just like Peter. However, the charism or gift of Peter's role in the Church is to confirm the rest of the believers in the faith. Not one pope has failed to teach and uphold Catholic Orthodoxy. This is what the Church teaches in her doctrine of papal infallibility (Catechism of the Catholic Church nos. 890-891). Sadly, not every pope has been a good Christian, diplomat, governor/legislator, or preacher. Thankfully, many popes have been exemplary saints, evangelists, and governors. Most importantly, all popes have been orthodox. In the words of the Roman Canon, they are those "who, holding to the truth, [have] hand[ed] on the Catholic and Apostolic faith." It is constitutive to being Peter.

After choosing the twelve, St. Luke then tells us that Jesus taught hundreds of people, and healed them of their diseases (v. 18). The scene back then is similar to the way in which people stream to Gillette Stadium from all over New England to see the Patriots play. Foxborough would have little significance for the rest of New England apart from the Patriots. Likewise, Galilee would have had no other reason to draw such crowds apart from the presence of Jesus of Nazareth. When we receive Holy Communion, we should approach the Lord with the same kind of desire of the people in this passage. They all "sought to touch Him, because power came forth from him and healed them all" (v. 19). Approached in faith and received with repentance, Jesus in the Sacred Host purges us of venial sin (less serious sin), just as He healed the people long ago in Galilee. Let us continue to seek Him and His healing grace for our physical and spiritual ailments.

(David Allen)

LATIN MASS TEXTS: THIRD SUNDAY AFTER EPIPHANY

INTROIT: Ps. 96. 7-8 Adore God, all you His angels: Sion heard, and was glad: and the daughters of Juda rejoiced. Psalm 96.1 The Lord hath reigned, let the earth rejoice: let many islands be glad. V. Glory be to the Father.

COLLECT Almighty and eternal God, mercifully look upon our infirmity, and stretch forth the right hand of Thy majesty to help and defend us. Through our Lord.

EPISTLE: Romans 12: 16-21 Brethren: Be not wise in your own conceits. To no man rendering evil for evil: providing good things not only in the sight of God, but also in the sight of all men. If it be possible, as much as is in you, have peace with all men. Revenge not yourselves, my dearly beloved, but give place unto wrath. For it is written: Revenge is mine: I will repay, saith the Lord. But if thy enemy be hungry, give him to eat; if he thirst, give him to drink; for doing this, thou shalt heap coals of fire upon his head. Be not overcome by evil, but overcome evil by good.

GRADUAL: Psalm 101. 16-17 The Gentiles shall fear Thy name, O Lord, and all the kings of the earth Thy glory. V. For the Lord hath built up Sion: and He shall be seen in His glory. ALLELUIA: Psalm 96. 1 Alleluia, alleluia. V. The Lord hath reigned, let the earth rejoice: let many islands be glad. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Matthew 8. 1-13 At that time, when Jesus was come down from the mountain great multitudes followed Him: and behold a leper came and adored Him, saying: Lord, if Thou wilt, Thou canst make me clean. And Jesus, stretching forth His hand, touched Him, saying: I will. Be thou made clean. And forthwith his leprosy was cleansed. And Jesus saith to him: See, thou tell no man: but go, show thyself to the priest, and offer the gift which Moses commanded for a testimony unto them. And when He had entered into Capharnaum, there came to Him a centurion, beseeching Him and saying: Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, and is grievously tormented. And Jesus saith to him: I will come and heal him. And the centurion making answer said: Lord, I am not worthy that Thou shouldst enter under my roof: but only say the word and my servant shall be healed. For I also am a man subject to authority, having under me soldiers; and I say to this: Go and he goeth; and to another: Come, and he cometh; and to my servant: Do this, and he doeth it. And Jesus hearing this marveled, and said to them that followed Him: Amen I say to you, I have not found so great faith in Israel. And I say to you, that many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob in the kingdom of heaven: but the children of the kingdom shall be cast out into the exterior darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth. And Jesus said to the centurion: Go, and as thou hast believed, so be it done to thee. And the servant was healed at the same hour.

OFFERTORY: Psalm 65. 117. 16-17 The right hand of the Lord hath wrought strength: the right hand of the Lord hath exalted me: I shall not die, but live, and shall declare the works of the Lord.

SECRET May this offering, O Lord, we pray Thee, cleanse away our sins, and sanctify the bodies and minds of Thy servants for the celebration of this sacrifice.

Preface of the Holy Trinity

COMMUNION: Luke 4. 22 All wondered at these things which proceeded from the mouth of God.

POSTCOMMUNION Vouchsafe, we pray Thee, O Lord, that we who of Thy bounty frequent these great mysteries, may be made worthy to enjoy their fruits. Through our Lord.
