AUGUST IS MONTH OF THE IMMACULATE HEART OF MARY

FRONT COVER: The reliquary containing the chains which tradition says bound St. Peter when he was held prisoner by Herod Agrippa in Jerusalem and from which he was miraculously delivered by an angel (Acts of the Apostles 12:1-11). There are two chains, one of 23 links with a ring to attach the neck, and another piece of eleven links. They are venerated in the Basilica of San Pietro in Vincoli (St. Peter in Chains) in Rome. In the 1962 Missal there is a particular Mass for St. Peter's Chains celebrated on August 1st. The Collect for the Mass relates St. Peter's physical deliverance on that occasion to God's forgiveness of our sins: "O God, You broke the chains of blessed Peter to restore him safely to freedom; we pray You, break the bonds of our sins and in Your goodness keep us from all evil." (Photo shared with us by parishioner David Murray from his pilgrimage trip to Rome.)

IRAQI CHRISTIANS: PRAYER AND ALMSGIVING

Details of the mass expulsion of Iraqi Christians from their native home by the Islamic State continue to emerge. The London Economist reported on July 26th:

Few of the Christian women fleeing to safety in northern Iraq arrived wearing rings in their ears or on their fingers. Fighters of the Islamic State, the self-proclaimed new name of the Islamic State of Iraq and Greater Syria (ISIS), the jihadist group that captured Mosul last month, relieved them of just about everything valuable—except their lives.

A week ago the Christians in the city were told they had until July 18th to convert to Islam, pay a special tax, leave, or, in the words of a statement by the jihadists, they would have "nothing but the sword". But then the jihadists changed their mind: paying taxes was no longer an option. All Christians were told by the loudspeaker on July 18th that they had all to leave by the next day—or be killed.

*The Arabic letter for N for Nassarah, meaning Christian, was spray-painted on their houses, with stencils declaring them to be "Property of the Islamic State". Monks from the monastery of Mar Behnam, near Qaraqosh, south-east of Mosul, were allowed to take only the clothes they were wearing. "You have no place here anymore," the jihadists are reported to have said...For the first time in over 1,600 years the city of Mosul will have been emptied of Christians. The Mar Behnam monastery dates from the 4th century. ("Iraq's Christians Nearly All Gone", The Economist, July 26th, 2014)*

The parish Iraqi Community of Our Lady of Mesopotamia will gather for Mass here at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes on Saturday, August 16th, at 5:30 PM. This will be a special Mass of solidarity and the Community has invited other groups in the Archdiocese to join them here. This invitation is extended to the larger parish of Mary Immaculate of Lourdes as well.

In addition to the charity of prayers, the charity of alms is urgently needed. If you wish to make a donation to Iraqi Christians through the parish, please clearly mark it FOR IRAQI CHRISTIANS, and place it in the Collection basket or drop it off at the rectory. We will send whatever such donations we receive to the Iraqi diocese in New Jersey, and from there they will go to the rescue efforts on behalf of the destitute Christian refugees. (Fr. Higgins)

KNOW YOUR CATHOLIC FAITH

GOSPEL OF SAINT LUKE BIBLE STUDY (Luke 10:38-42)

St. Luke's account of Jesus' visit to Mary and Martha's house reminds us of the joy of human friendship in our Lord's life. Christ, being the second Person of the Trinity, is relational by his very nature. But our Lord's life on earth was also characterized by relationships: those of family and close friends with whom He could share good meals, hearty laughs, as well as pains and setbacks. Are we on that kind of wavelength with our Lord? Do we feel that at any given moment, Jesus is our close friend with whom we can share our "joys, prayers, works, and sufferings," to quote the Morning Offering?

As I wrote about in a previous bulletin, Mary and Martha are the same women from St. John's Gospel chapter 11, whose brother Lazarus Jesus raised from the dead. It is very likely that this Mary, Mary Magdalen mentioned in chapter 8, and the sinful woman mentioned anonymously in chapter 7 are all the same person.

Following the Ignatian method of reading Scripture, we can try to place ourselves within this scene, and imagine the joy of Mary, sitting at the Lord's feet, listening to Him teach, so very glad to have her close friend and Lord as the honored guest. We can also imagine the anxiety of Martha, who, though grateful for Jesus' visit, is frustrated in her toilsome service, unaided by her sister. Martha's complaint seems legitimate: "Lord, do you not care that my sister has left me by myself to do the serving? Tell her to help me" (v. 40). Rather than affirm her grievance, Jesus tries to unburden Martha of worry: "Martha, Martha, you are anxious and worried about many things. There is need of only one thing. Mary has chosen the better part and it will not be taken from her" (vv. 41-42).

It is striking that Jesus critiques Martha's service, after having commended the extraordinary service of the Samaritan in the previous passage. We are not to understand from this admonition that the Lord devalues Martha's hard work. Like anyone, Jesus would surely be grateful for a well-prepared dinner and excellent hospitality. What He deems unnecessary is her worry and anxiety. We can almost hear Jesus' tone as he repeats Martha's name: a tone of correction, but also of serene reassurance.

How many times in the course of the day do we worry? We cannot help but have a healthy level of care and concern regarding various things. This, of course, is good. But to the extent that things cause us to be preoccupied while we are praying, or while we are spending time with family, then this is bad. Martha was preoccupied, and Jesus wanted to restore her equilibrium.

The "one thing needful" refers simply to Mary's meekness in spending quality time with Jesus. Yes, we are busy (who isn't?). But is every minute so terribly crucial that we cannot afford to "take five" and enjoy talking with the Lord? I doubt it. Being over-busy is a temptation that feeds anxiety. It can lead to idolizing our tasks and plans, which, though often important, are certainly not more important than God Himself, who gave us the faculties for accomplishing tasks in the first place. What He values above all is our love for Him, not how much we can accomplish. Mary teaches us that every minute spent with Jesus will never be in vain. Let us choose the "better part," which will never be taken from us.

(David Allen)

MARY IMMACULATE OF LOURDES: PARISH PURGATORIAL SOCIETY

By this Purgatorial Society, the names of our dead friends and relatives may be enrolled (either as individuals or in aggregate), and prayed for especially in the 52 Masses that will be offered in the parish each year for the intention of the Purgatorial Society. The requested offering for a perpetual enrollment is $20.00. (White leatherette enrollment envelopes are available in the vestibule of the rectory.) The prayers we have offered at Mass for the souls of the faithful departed are both an expression of our belief in individual survival after the event of bodily death and of a charity towards our neighbor which reaches beyond the grave. A partial list of the souls enrolled, including the most recent additions:

Please let us know if any names have been transcribed incorrectly or if you think your enrollment may have been overlooked.)

"It is therefore a holy and wholesome thought to pray for the dead, that they may be loosed from sins."

(II Machabees 12:46)

"If a compassionate charity towards all that are in any distress, even towards the most undeserving, be an essential ingredient of a Christian spirit, and one in which the very soul of religion and piety towards God consists, how much more should we exert our charity for those in spiritual need, no longer able to help themselves, and perhaps bound to us by ties of blood or friendship?"

—Fr. Herbert Thurston, S.J.

EIGHTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

INTROIT: Psalm 47:10-11. 2 We have received Thy mercy, O God, in the midst of Thy temple. according to Thy name, O God, so also is Thy praise unto the ends of the earth: Thy right hand is full of justice. Ps. Great is the Lord, and exceedingly to be praised in the city of God, in His holy mountain V. Glory be to the Father.

COLLECT Grant us, we pray, Lord, in Thy goodness, the spirit to think and to do always what is right, so that we, who cannot exist without Thee, may be able to live according to Thy will. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

EPISTLE: Romans 8:12-17. Brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live according to the flesh; for if you live according to the flesh, you shall die; but if by the Spirit you mortify the deeds of the flesh, you shall live. For whosoever are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God. For you have not received the spirit of bondage again in fear, but You have received the spirit of adoption of sons, whereby we cry: Abba (Father). For the Spirit Himself giveth testimony to our spirit, that we are the sons of God; and if sons, heirs also; heirs indeed of God, and joint heirs with Christ.

GRADUAL: Psalm 30, 3; 70, 1. Be Thou unto me a God, a protector and a place of refuge, to save me. V. In Thee, O God, have I hoped, let me never be confounded.

ALLELUIA: Psalm 47, 2. Alleluia, alleluia. V. Great is the Lord, and exceedingly to be praised, in the city of our God, in His holy mountain. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Luke 16, 1-9. At that time, Jesus spoke to His disciples this parable: “There was a certain rich man who had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods; and he called him, and said to him: ‘How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship, for now thou canst be steward no longer.’ And the steward said within himself: ‘What shall I do, because my lord taketh away from me the stewardship? To dig I am not able: to beg I am ashamed. I know what I will do, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.’ Therefore calling together every one of his master’s debtors, he said to the first: ‘How much dost thou owe my lord?’ But he said: ‘A hundred barrels of oil.’ And he said to him: ‘Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.’ Then he said to another: ‘And how much dost thou owe?’ Who said: ‘A hundred quarters of wheat.’ He said to him: ‘Take thy bill, and write eighty.’ And the lord commended the unjust steward, for as much as he had done wisely: for the children of this world are wiser in their generation than the children of light. And I say unto you: Make unto yourselves friends of the mammon of iniquity, that when you fail, they may receive you into everlasting dwellings.”

OFFERTORY: Psalm 17: 28, 32. Thou wilt save the humble people, O Lord, and wilt bring down the eyes of the proud; for who is God but Thee, O Lord?

SECRET Receive, Lord, we pray, the offerings which we make to You, of what You Yourself have given us, so that by the power of Your grace these holy mysteries may sanctify our present life and bring us to everlasting joys. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Preface of the Holy Trinity

COMMUNION: Psalm 33: 9. Taste and see that the Lord is sweet: blessed is the man that hopeth in Him.

POSTCOMMUNION: May this heavenly mystery, Lord, restore us both in soul and in body, so that we may feel within us the power of the sacrament which we celebrate. Through our Lord.
