SEPTEMBER IS THE MONTH OF OUR LADY OF SORROWS

FRONT COVER: Icon of Padre Pio of Pietrelcina, whose feast-day is September 23rd. For fifty years, from 1918 to his death in 1968, Padre Pio bore the visible wounds of Christ crucified on his body, the “stigmata”. When he said Mass the wounds would spontaneously bleed. He was a “living crucifix”.

A “THEOLOGY OF THE CATACOMBS”

In an interview he gave to the Boston Globe before his installation as bishop for the Episcopal Church’s Diocese of Massachusetts, the Rev. Alan Gates spoke about a church partnership project his parish church had undertaken in Cleveland, Ohio. They had linked with a small church on the verge of extinction “to reach some of the graduate students in the neighborhood by providing opportunities to do ‘meaningful things in the community’.” (Boston Globe, “Continuing the Mission Mind-set: New Bishop Assumes Helm of Mass. Episcopal Diocese”, September 13th, 2014). Over time,

“many found their way to Sunday morning.” The mix of younger newcomers with the “tiny, faithful remnant” of long-time worshippers revived that dying parish. “What didn’t work,” the Rev. Gates said with candor, “were all the latest formulas for evangelism.”

This is something to consider for ourselves as Roman Catholics in the Archdiocese of Boston at this time. What should offer us a framework for an effective, personalist evangelism?

John Allen, in his Sunday Boston Globe column All Things Catholic last week, referenced the experience of the Greek Catholic Church in Ukraine. During the Soviet Communist Dictatorship, especially after 1945 when all of Ukraine fell under Stalin, it was suppressed and persecuted. “In percentage terms, no church produced more 20th century martyrs.” Since the collapse of the Soviet Union in the early 1990s, this underground church has come to life again and shown extraordinary creativity and energy.

One example is the Ukrainian Catholic University in the city of L’viv, founded in 1994. “Its bold aim is nothing less than to rethink what a Christian university can be in the 21st century.” Planners in the 1990s identified two challenges: building on the legacy of martyrs and repairing social trust. “The idea, according to Bishop Borys Gudziak, is to pioneer ‘a new social, intellectual, and theological synthesis’ of that experience—a theology of the catacombs.”

This is indeed something to ponder. How might we learn how to be Christian disciples by benefiting from the wisdom which Christians in other parts of the world have learned by such great and prolonged suffering? How might our Christian living be deepened by drawing on this “treasury of merit” so close to our life-times? Here is a concept for evangelism: practical attention to the real needs people infused with a humble “theology of the catacombs”.

SCRIPTURE STUDY COLUMN

GOSPEL OF SAINT LUKE BIBLE STUDY (Luke 12:13-21)

Just as Jesus is finishing some private instructions to His disciples, someone demands that He settle an inheritance dispute. This seems strange to us, for Jesus was not a lawyer. As the commentaries indicate, however, rabbis at that time could arbitrate in such matters. Jesus tables the request and responds thus: "Take care to guard against all greed, for though one may be rich, one's life does not consist of possessions" (v. 15).

Jesus then tells a parable of a certain rich man who decides to tear down his barns so that he might build larger barns to house his abundant harvest (vv. 16-18). In v. 19, however, Jesus exposes the rich man's intentions as being entirely selfish. After spelling out his plan, the rich man says to himself, "Now as for you, you have so many good things stored up for many years, rest, eat, drink, be merry!" In the Greek, he actually addresses his soul explicitly: "Soul, you have so many good things...etc." Unfortunately, his early retirement did not proceed as planned.

Jesus continues the story in vv. 20-21: "But God said to him, 'You fool, this night your life will be demanded of you; and the things you have prepared, to whom will they belong?' Thus will it be for the one who stores up treasure for himself but is not rich in what matters to God." Interestingly enough, the word translated here as "life" is the same word for "soul," used above. God called the man a fool, because he felt his "life," his immortal soul, "consist [ed] of possessions" (v. 15). In other words, his value system was slavishly materialistic, and he took no thought for eternity.

We must note that the man is not called a fool simply because he was rich. Rather, Jesus contrasts the rich man's material wealth with his lack of concern for being "rich in what matters to God" (v. 21). What exactly matters to God? Most obviously, the man could have shared his abundance with those in need by giving alms (just as Jesus recommends to the Pharisees in 11:41). Throughout Scripture, God manifests continual preoccupation with the plight of the poor. According to St. John Chrysostom, the answer to God's question, "to whom will they belong?", ideally would be "to the poor!" This is distinct, however, from the evangelical counsel of poverty, that is, the complete divestment of riches, to which Jesus calls only a few (cf. Luke 18:22). Nevertheless, there is more to Jesus' teaching than a call to charity. The things that matter to God transcend the almsgiving that can be done by anyone, religious or otherwise.

Ultimately, the rich man failed- abysmally- in taking account of his eternal destiny. He did not worship the God who had blessed him with his abundant harvest, and instead, he idolized his wealth and comfort. In every way, God far exceeds the people and things we hold most dear, and thus, is worthy of our total adoration. Sunday (and weekday) worship allows us to give priority to God, and to offer Him thanksgiving for all His many blessings. Beyond being an innate duty (and not an option for one's convenience), contemplating the depth of God's love for us should increase our desire to worship Him (Ps. 103:1, Ps. 146:1, Rom. 12:1). Worship is meant to be a joy, not a chore. This is what the saints do in heaven for all eternity (cf. Rev. 4-5, 19-22). Please God, may we join them!

(David Allen)

LETTER OF THANKS FROM BISHOP YOUSIF HABASH:

(The text of the letter of thanks which the parish received for the first set of donations bundled for the relief of the Iraqi Christians.)

Reverend and Dear Father Higgins and Parishioners and Friends:

We want to acknowledge gratefully your contribution for the relief of the Christian refugees in Iraq. Your gift of $3,925.00 received in check #13626, dated 8/22/14 is a precious manifestation of charitable and empathetic concern for our sisters and brothers who have been forced to leave their homes and all their possessions, trekking through wilderness under the burning sun into an uncertain future—all because of their allegiance to our Lord Jesus Christ. It has been deposited to our diocesan account for transmittal overseas. We have seen the plight of mothers and infants and children, of the elderly, lacking food, water, shelter. These are blessings we take so much for granted. As we open our hearts to them in their need, we pray that the Lord will sustain them in their trust in Him and that they will realize they are not Forsaken, nor forgotten. May we persevere in using the weapon of prayer for their protection and well being and may the Lord give us His wisdom and strength to know how we may continue to assist them, and then to do it. The One who said, "If you give a cup of cold water to someone because he belongs to Christ, you will surely not lack your reward" (Mt. 10:42), will most assuredly bless—as only He can—all who contribute aid to His faithful. May His blessing be yours! With gratitude for this manifestation of your faith and love, I am,

Sincerely yours in Christ,

+Bishop Yousif Habash

FIFTEENTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

INTROIT: Psalm 85: 1, 2-4 Bow down Thy ear, O Lord, to me and hear me: Save Thy servant, O my God, that trusteth in Thee all day. Ps. Give joy to the soul of Thy servant; for to Thee, O Lord, I have lifted up my soul. Glory be to the Father.

COLLECT Lord, may Thy continual pity cleanse and defend Your Church, and, since it cannot be preserved in safety without You, govern it always by Your Providence. Through our Lord.

EPISTLE: Galatians 5: 25-26; 6:1-10 Brethren: If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit. Let us not be made desirous of vain glory, provoking one another, envying one another. Brethren, and if any man be overtaken in any fault, you, who are spiritual, instruct such a one in the Spirit of meekness, considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. Bear ye one another's burdens, and so you shall fulfill the law of Christ. For if any man thinks himself to be something, whereas he is nothing, he deceiveth himself. But let everyone prove his own work, and so he shall have glory in himself only, and not in another. For everyone shall bear his own burden. And let him that is instructed in the word, communicate to him that instructeth him, in all good things. Be not deceived: God is not mocked; for what things a man shall sow, those also shall he reap. For he that soweth in his flesh, of the flesh shall reap corruption: but he that soweth in the spirit, of the spirit shall reap life everlasting. And in doing good, let us not fail; for in due time we shall reap, not failing. Therefore, whilst we have time, let us work good to all men, but especially to those who are of the household of the faith.

GRADUAL: Psalm 91:2-3 It is good to give praise to the Lord; and to sing to Thy name, O Most High. V. To show forth Thy mercy in the morning, and Thy truth in the night.

ALLELUIA: Psalm 94: 3 Alleluia, alleluia. V. For the Lord is a great God, and a great King over all the earth. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Luke 7:11-16 At that time, Jesus went to a city called Naim; and there went with Him His disciples, and a great multitude. And when He came nigh to the gate of the city, behold a dead man was carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow, and much people of the city were with her. And when the Lord saw her, He had compassion on her, and said to her: "Weep not." And He came near and touched the bier. And they that carried it stood still. And He said: "Young man, I say to thee, Arise": and he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And He delivered him to his mother. And there came a fear on them all: and they glorified God, saying: "A great prophet is risen up amongst us," and "God hath visited His people."

OFFERTORY: Psalm 39: 2,3,4 With expectation I have waited for the Lord, and He had regard to me; and He heard my prayer, and He put a new canticle into my mouth, a song to our God.

SECRET May Thy sacraments, Lord, protect us and always defend us against the devil's attacks. Through our Lord.

Preface of the Holy Trinity

COMMUNION: John 6:22 The bread that I will give is My flesh for the life of the world.

POSTCOMMUNION May the power of this heavenly gift take possession, Lord, we implore Thee, of our minds and bodies, so that we may be always guided not by our natural impulses but by its working in us. Through our Lord.

Evangelization Focus

“Evangelization must be the first focus of our Church. Then, the corporal and spiritual works of mercy, which result from living and sharing the Gospel, will transform the culture around us. We have the mission ‘to repair the world,’ what the Jews call Tikkun olam.”

~Cardinal Sean O'Malley
