ABOUT OUR PARISH

Welcome, New Parishioners and Sunday Visitors:

Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Parish is a canonically open parish of the Archdiocese of Boston, which has a Traditional Latin Mass apostolate. Both the ordinary form of the Roman Rite (1970 Missal) and the extraordinary form (1962 Missal) are celebrated here with the blessing of His Eminence Sean Cardinal O'Malley, Archbishop of Boston. We encourage new parishioners to please register in the parish and to introduce yourselves to the Pastor. We are always glad to welcome Sunday visitors here to our beautiful, historic church. We look forward to your coming again.

PLEASE TAKE THE TIME TO FILL OUT A PARISH
REGISTRATION FORM.

Parish Mission Statement

“What then is a parish? It is the smallest section of the one universal flock which has been entrusted to Peter by the Lord.

Under the authority of a responsible priest who has received the care of souls from his bishop, the parish is, within the Church of Jesus Christ, the first community of Christian life; it is a community cut to human dimensions, in which the shepherd can know his flock and the flock can know their shepherd ... At the heart of this area, we find the parish church with its bell-tower, its baptistery, its confessional, its altar and tabernacle, a symbol of unity and the centre of community life.”

(Blessed Pope Paul VI, reigned 1964-1978)

FRONT COVER:

“The Madonna of Humility” by Fra Angelico (A.D. 1433-35). Our Lady holds two flowers in a vase, a red rose for Motherhood and a white lily for Purity: the Christ Child holds a lily in His hand. This painting is located in the Museu Nacional d’Art de Catalunya, Barcelona.

DECEMBER IS THE MONTH OF THE DIVINE INFANCY

Pastor's Note

THE "HAIL MARY"

After the "Our Father", the "Hail Mary" is the most familiar prayer to us as Catholics, so familiar that we take it for granted that the prayer has always existed as we say it now.

This, however, is not so.

The elaboration of the Angel Gabriel's greeting to Mary at the Annunciation, "Hail [Mary], full of grace, the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women," into a full fledged prayer of petition, "Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen," came out of the life of the Church. It was not until the Roman Breviary issued in 1568 (following the Council of Trent) that the Catholic Church gave official recognition to the form of the Ave Maria known so well to us.

It is a prayer in three parts. 1) Gabriel's greeting (Luke 1:28), 2) St. Elizabeth's greeting to Mary, "And blessed is the fruit of thy womb [Jesus]" (Luke 1:42), and 3) The Church's prayer of petition.

In explaining the Church's addition of the prayer of petition to the greeting of Our Lady the Catechism of the Council of Trent states the following:

Most rightly has the Holy Church of God added to this thanksgiving, petition also and the invocation of the most holy Mother of God, thereby implying that we should piously and suppliantly have recourse to her in order that by her intercession she may reconcile God with us sinners and obtain for us the blessings which we need both for this present life and for the life which has no end.

In searching for the origins of the Hail Mary in the first millennium of the Church we find it in the growth of personal devotion to the Mother of God among the faithful. It is not until the turn of the millennium, however, that we have evidence of the devotional formula clearly being used by Catholics. For example, Abbot Baldwin, a Cistercian monk who became the Archbishop of Canterbury in 1184, wrote of the Ave Maria:

To this salutation of the Angel, by which we daily greet the Most Blessed Virgin, with such devotion as we may, we are accustomed to add the words, 'and blessed is the fruit of thy womb,' by which clause Elizabeth at a later time, on hearing the Virgin's salutation to her, caught up and completed, as it were, the Angel's words, saying: 'Blessed art thou among women and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.'

Since the Ave Maria was a solemn greeting of an august personage, in these centuries people said it with a gesture of reverence, for example, bending the knee in genuflection. It is recorded of King St. Louis of France (13th Century): "Without counting his other prayers the holy King knelt down each evening fifty times and each time he stood upright then knelt again and repeated slowly an Ave Maria." The Dominican nun St. Margaret (+1292), daughter of the King of Hungary, outdid St. Louis: on certain days she recited the Ave Maria a thousand times with a thousand prostrations.

The final prayer of petition close to the one in use now appears to have come out of Italy in the later part of the 15th Century, although there was a great variability in the wording of a final prayer of petition to the Ave Maria in the various languages of Catholic Europe. Until the 1568 Breviary, the Hail Mary officially ended with, "...and blessed is the fruit of thy womb Jesus."*

SCRIPTURE STUDY

SUNDAY EPISTLES STUDY FOURTH SUNDAY IN ADVENT: I CORINTHIANS 4:1-5

The Epistle for today's Mass, the Fourth Sunday of Advent, presents a timely and instructive theme for our meditation: the sufficiency of God's just judgement. St. Paul arrives at this theme, however, by means of an argument begun earlier in I Corinthians 3.

One of the many problems that plagued the Corinthian Church was disunity: various factions had arisen due to a misplaced adherence to various apostles on the part of the people. In 3:4-9, St. Paul says the following: "For when one says, 'I belong to Paul,' and another, 'I belong to Apollos,' are you not merely men? What then is Apollos? What is Paul? Servants through whom you believed, as the Lord assigned to each. I planted, Apollos watered, but God gave the growth. So neither he who plants nor he who waters is anything, but only God who gives the growth...For we are God's fellow workers; you are God's field, God's building" (RSV).

The believers in Corinth had lost focus on Christ, and chose instead to identify themselves principally with particular apostles, resulting in "jealously and strife" (cf. 3:3). St. Paul urges them: "So let no one boast of men. For all things are yours, whether Paul or Apollos or Cephas...you are Christ's; and Christ is God's" (vv. 21-22, RSV). Hence, St. Paul directs their attention to the real nature of his apostleship. Being an apostle is not about developing a cult following, but rather, it is about the stewardship of God's mysteries, which is where today's passage begins: "This is how one should regard us, as servants of Christ and stewards of the mysteries of God" (cf. 4:1, RSV). The mysteries here can refer the whole of the Christian Gospel more generally, as well as the sacraments, in particular.

At this point, St. Paul contrasts human judgement with God's judgement. His point? It should not matter what the believers in Corinth think about him or any other apostle: "But to me it is a very small thing to be judged by you or by man's day" (v. 3). St. Paul entrusts himself entirely to God's judgement:

"He that judgeth me is the Lord" (v. 4). What a marvelous challenge to us, who are so prone to judge others hastily. Being fully aware of this tendency in human nature, St. Paul fittingly exhorts his readers in v. 5: "Therefore judge not before the time, until the Lord come: Who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise from God." In our own particular judgement as well as in the Last Judgement, God will sort things out far more perfectly than we might

LATIN MASS PROPERS: FOURTH SUNDAY OF ADVENT (RORATE SUNDAY)

INTROIT: Isaiah 45: 8 Drop down dew, ye heavens, from above, and let the clouds rain the just: let the earth be opened and bud forth a Saviour. Psalms 18: 2 The heavens show forth the glory of God: and the firmament declareth the work of His hands. V. Glory be to the Father.

COLLECT Stir up Thy power and come, we pray Thee, O Lord, and with great might succour us; that our deliverance, which our sins impede, may be hastened by the help of Thy grace and the forgiveness of Thy mercy. Who livest and reignest God.

EPISTLE: 1 Corinthians 4: 1-5 Brethren, let a man so account of us as of the ministers of Christ and the dispensers of the mysteries of God. Here now it is required among the dispensers that a man be found faithful. But to me it is a very small thing to be judged by you or by man's day: but neither do I judge my own self. For I am not conscious to myself of anything: yet am I not hereby justified, but He that judgeth me is the Lord. Therefore, judge not before the time, until the Lord come; who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and then shall every man have praise from God.

GRADUAL: Psalms 144: 18, 21 The Lord is nigh unto all them that call upon Him: to all that call upon Him in truth. V. My mouth shall speak the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh bless His holy name. ALLELUIA Alleluia, alleluia. V. Come, O Lord, and tarry not: forgive the sins of Thy people Israel. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Luke 3: 1-6 Now in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, Pontius Pilate being governor of Judea, and Herod being tetrarch of Galilee, and Philip his brother tetrarch of Iturea and the country of Trachonitis, and Lysanias tetrarch of Abilina, under the high-priests Annas and Caiphas: the word of the Lord was made unto John, the son of Zachary, in the desert. And he came into all the country about the Jordan, preaching the baptism of penance for the remission of sins, as it was written in the book of the sayings of Isaiah the prophet: A voice of one crying in the wilderness: Prepare ye the way of the Lord: make straight His paths: every valley shall be filled: and every mountain and hill shall be brought low, and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways plain: and all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

OFFERTORY: Luke 1: 28, 42 Hail Mary, full of grace: the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.

SECRET Look down favourably upon these sacrifices, O Lord, we beseech Thee: that they may be profitable to our devotion and salvation. Through our Lord.

Preface of Advent

COMMUNION: Isaiah 7: 14 Behold a Virgin shall conceive and bear a son: and His name shall be called Emmanuel.

POSTCOMMUNION Having received Thy gifts, we beseech Thee, O Lord, that with the frequentation of the mystery, the work of our salvation may increase. Through our Lord.
