ABOUT OUR PARISH

Welcome, New Parishioners and Sunday Visitors:

Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Parish is a canonically open parish of the Archdiocese of Boston, which has a Traditional Latin Mass apostolate. Both the ordinary form of the Roman Rite (1970 Missal) and the extraordinary form (1962 Missal) are celebrated here with the blessing of His Eminence Sean Cardinal O'Malley, Archbishop of Boston. We encourage new parishioners to please register in the parish and to introduce yourselves to the Pastor. We are always glad to welcome Sunday visitors here to our beautiful, historic church. We look forward to your coming again.

PLEASE TAKE THE TIME TO FILL OUT A PARISH
REGISTRATION FORM.

Parish Mission Statement

“What then is a parish? It is the smallest section of the one universal flock which has been entrusted to Peter by the Lord.

Under the authority of a responsible priest who has received the care of souls from his bishop, the parish is, within the Church of Jesus Christ, the first community of Christian life; it is a community cut to human dimensions, in which the shepherd can know his flock and the flock can know their shepherd ... At the heart of this area, we find the parish church with its bell-tower, its baptistery, its confessional, its altar and tabernacle, a symbol of unity and the centre of community life.”

(Blessed Pope Paul VI, reigned 1964-1978)

SCRIPTURE STUDY

SUNDAY EPISTLES STUDY FIFTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER James 1:22-27

Today we hear again from the first chapter of St. James' Epistle, and we pick up right where we left off last week. Indeed, even today's Collect (like last week's Collect) refers once again to James 1:17, which began last week's passage. The Collect begins, "O God, from Whom all good things do come," thereby linking today's Mass Propers to last week's. On the basis of this truth we heard from St. James last week, namely, that all good things originate in God and are gifts from him, we have the confidence to make this request: "Grant to us Thy suppliants, that by Thine inspiration we may think what is right, and under Thy guidance perform it."

At the end of last week's passage from St. James, we heard that we are to "receive with meekness the implanted word, which is able to save [our] souls" (v. 21, RSV). Today, we are instructed to obey the word, lest we be hypocrites and liars. As St. James tells us in v. 22, "But be doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving yourselves" (RSV). It is not enough to merely hear or read the Bible. We also must resolve to translate its message into the concrete circumstances of life. This is similar to the central petition in the Collect for today's Mass: we are not only to think what is right, but also to do it. We ask God to help us to let His divine truth sink into our patterns of thought, so that it can slowly transform our habits into virtues.

The ancient monastic practice of reading the Scriptures, known as Lectio Divina, is careful to impress upon us the importance of putting the fruit of our meditation into practice in its fourth step, Contemplatio, or contemplation. Here is a brief review of the four steps:

Step 1- Lectio: Read aloud a selected passage of Scripture a few times slowly.

Step 2- Meditatio: Allow the Holy Spirit to lead us to meditate for a few minutes on one particular word or phrase in the passage. Repeat it several times, and savor its meaning.

Step 3- Oratio: Transition into a few minutes of heart-felt prayer which responds to what the Holy Spirit is teaching us in the particular word or phrase from our meditation.

Step 4- Contemplatio: From our prayer, we are finally led to contemplate a plan of action which will help us to translate this prayerful encounter with Jesus into practical steps for holy living. This step helps us to make a bridge from our prayer back to the routine of life. In this step, we also simply rest quietly in the Presence of God, having listened to and spoken with Him.

Reading the Bible according to this method, that is, slowly, meditatively, and with a consequent resolution for holy living, is so very important for our discipleship. It helps us to avoid being like the person St. James describes in today's passage who looks into the mirror, and then turns away and forgets what he saw (vv. 23-24). It simply won't do to "speed read" a passage and fail to consider its meaning, or fail to put it into practice. Rather, let us heed St. James' words in v. 25: "But he who looks into the perfect law, the law of liberty, and perseveres, being no hearer that forgets but a doer that acts, he shall be blessed in his doing" (RSV).

The final verses of today's passage offer challenging counsel which shines a bright light onto our practice of the faith (or our shortcomings therein). The quality of our speech, as well as our practical acts of charity for the needy are particularly important standards by which we can measure the authenticity of our faith (vv. 26-27). St. James here reiterates a teaching that we find throughout Scripture.

LATIN MASS PROPERS: SAINT JOSEPH THE WORKMAN (5th Sunday after Easter)

INTROIT: Wisdom 10, 17. Wisdom rendered to the just the wages of their labours, and conducted them in a wonderful way: and she was to them for a covert by day, and for the light of stars by night. Ps. Unless the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it. Glory be to the Father.

COLLECT: O God, Creator of all things, Who dost impose on man the law of work; grant in Thy goodness that, by the example and patronage of blessed Joseph, we may both accomplish the work Thou dost command and attain the reward Thou hast promised. Through our Lord.

EPISTLE: Col. 3. 14-15, 17, 23-24 Brethren: Have charity, which is the bond of perfection. And let the peace of Christ rejoice in your hearts, wherein also you are called in one body: and be ye thankful. All whatsoever you do in word or in work, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ, giving thanks to God and the Father by Him. Whatsoever you do, do it from the heart, as to the Lord, and not to men: knowing that you shall receive of the Lord the reward of inheritance. Serve ye the Lord Christ.

PASCHAL ALLELUIA: Psalms 36, 39, 40, 28 Alleluia, alleluia. In whatever tribulation they shall cry to me, I will hear them, and be their protector always. Alleluia. Obtain for us, Joseph, grace to lead an innocent life: and may our life ever be shielded by thy patronage. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Matthew 13. 54-58 At that time: Jesus coming into His country, He taught them in their synagogues, so that they wondered and said: How came this Man by this wisdom and miracles? Is not this the carpenter's Son? Is not His mother called Mary, and His brethren James, and Joseph, and Simon, and Jude: and His sisters, are they not all with us? Whence therefore hath He all these things? And they were scandalized in His regard. But Jesus said to them: A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house. And He wrought not many miracles there, because of their unbelief.

OFFERTORY: Psalms 87, 17 Let the brightness of the Lord our God be upon us: and direct Thou the works of our hands over us; yea, the work of our hands do Thou direct. Alleluia.

SECRET: May these gifts, the work of our hands, that we offer Thee in sacrifice, O Lord, become for us, by the intercession of blessed Joseph, a pledge of unity and peace. Through our Lord.

PREFACE OF ST. JOSEPH: It is truly meet and just, right and for our salvation, that we should at all times and in all places, give thanks unto Thee, O holy Lord, Father almighty, everlasting God: and that we should magnify with due praises, bless and proclaim Thee on the solemnity of blessed Joseph; who, being a just man, was given by Thee as a Spouse to the Virgin Mother of God, and, as a faithful and prudent servant was set over Thy Family, that, with fatherly care, he might guard Thine only-begotten Son, conceived by the overshadowing of the Holy Ghost, even Jesus Christ, our Lord. Through whom the Angels praise Thy Majesty, the Dominations worship it, and the Powers stand in awe. The heavens and the heavenly hosts together with the blessed Seraphim in triumphant chorus unite to celebrate it. Together with them we entreat Thee that Thou mayest bid our voices also to be admitted, while we say with lowly praise:

COMMUNION: Matt. 13. 54, 55 How came this Man by this wisdom and miracles? Is not this the carpenter's Son? Is not His mother called Mary? Alleluia.

POST COMMUNION: May these holy mysteries which we have received, O Lord, by the intercession of blessed Joseph, supply what is wanting in our works, and assure us of Thy rewards. Through our Lord.
