ABOUT OUR PARISH

Welcome, New Parishioners and Sunday Visitors:

Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Parish is a canonically open parish of the Archdiocese of Boston, which has a Traditional Latin Mass apostolate. Both the ordinary form of the Roman Rite (1970 Missal) and the extraordinary form (1962 Missal) are celebrated here with the blessing of His Eminence Sean Cardinal O'Malley, Archbishop of Boston. We encourage new parishioners to please register in the parish and to introduce yourselves to the Pastor. We are always glad to welcome Sunday visitors here to our beautiful, historic church. We look forward to your coming again.

PLEASE TAKE THE TIME TO FILL OUT A PARISH
REGISTRATION FORM.

Parish Mission Statement

“What then is a parish? It is the smallest section of the one universal flock which has been entrusted to Peter by the Lord.

Under the authority of a responsible priest who has received the care of souls from his bishop, the parish is, within the Church of Jesus Christ, the first community of Christian life; it is a community cut to human dimensions, in which the shepherd can know his flock and the flock can know their shepherd ... At the heart of this area, we find the parish church with its bell-tower, its baptistery, its confessional, its altar and tabernacle, a symbol of unity and the centre of community life.”

Pastor's Note

THE 108th ANNIVERSARY OF THE DEDICATION OF OUR PARISH CHURCH

On November 24th, 1910, Thanksgiving Day, the new church of St. Mary's, Newton/Needham, Massachusetts was dedicated as Mary Immaculate of Lourdes. Since the day of the Dedication was on Thanksgiving, we celebrate the anniversary Mass each year at the 9 AM Parish Mass on Thanksgiving Day.

The Anniversary Mass of Dedication is one of the most important liturgical feast's of parish life. Every parish celebrates two special feast days of its own each year: its titular feast and its dedication feast. For us at Mary Immaculate of Lourdes our titular feast is February 11th, the Feast of the Apparition of the Blessed Virgin Mary at Lourdes, and our dedication feast is Thanksgiving Day.

In Volume V of his guide to the liturgy The Church's Year of Grace Dr. Pius Parsch outlines the significance of a church's dedication for the life of faith:

The house of God, the parish church, is dear to Christians for many reasons:

- It is the house of prayer and the place of sacrifice for the whole congregation.

- Here the Triune God has set up His tent of grace and blessing. The altar signifies Christ and is to be considered the holiest spot in the structure. During the Sacrifice of Mass Christ personally enters this house and through His visitation our "salvation is again effected."
- The parish church is the visible symbol of God's kingdom upon earth. Here Mother Church holds her official services; here her heart beats fastest for her Bridegroom Christ, as also for her children. The Church of Christ stands upon the foundation stones of the Twelve Apostles...The dignity and beauty of the material edifice should be a sign of the excellence and supreme importance of holy Mother Church.
- The parish church is for us the gate of heaven, a foretaste of heaven, a preview of our heavenly home. The liturgy performed in the parish church continues the symbolism—much of its drama has its setting in heaven...The entrance procession of priest and ministers to the altar is a figure of our journey heavenward.
- Lastly, the parish church symbolizes the individual Christian. This comparison was frequently used by the early Church Fathers to teach the sanctity of Christian life: 'Do you not know that your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit who lives in you?' Such symbolism is given beautiful expression in the dedication ceremonies of a church, for these rites in a very tangible way are modeled after the liturgy of Baptism...and Confirmation...Here we find the reason for the imposition of a name and the celebration of the saint's day (titular [feast]); for if individual Christians celebrate their patronal feast, why not the parish body?

(Fr. Higgins)

SCRIPTURE STUDY

COLLECTS OF THE ROMAN MISSAL SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 25th, 2018:

Last Sunday after Pentecost Secreta

For our weekly meditation on the Collects of the Roman Missal, we consider today's Secreta Collect (the "Secret" or "Prayer over the Offerings") for the Last Sunday after Pentecost (MR'62). The following is my own translation of today's Collect:

"Be merciful, Lord, to our supplications: and with the offerings and prayers of Your people having now been received, convert our hearts to You, so that, freed from disordered earthly desires, we may pass on towards heavenly desires. Through our Lord, etc. Amen."

The Mass is composed of many parts which work together to lead us to the high-point of the Canon. One such crucial part is the Offertory, which summons us to let down all of our cares- the important and the less important- and consciously and humbly offer them to Christ, so that we may adore the Father. It calls us to let go of prohibitive attachments and distractions, so as to be attuned to this encounter with the living God.

The Secreta Collect is the culmination of the Offertory, summing up and collecting (hence, the term "Collect") all of our prayers, sacrifices, and intentions, and joining them to Christ who will make them meritorious by his action in the Mass. We might compare our material and spiritual offerings being "collected" by the celebrant's prayer to St. Andrew receiving the loaves and fish from the boy, and giving them to Christ who "eucharistizes" them (cf. John 6:1-11).

In our Secreta, the priest begs God that He would turn or convert our hearts towards Him. Why this petition, in particular? The prayer recognizes the adverse reality of terrenis cupiditatibus, which I have translated as "disordered earthly desires." Cupiditas may be translated variously as greed, lust, passion, ambition, or eager desire. Theologically speaking, these all share the negative characteristic of being disordered inclinations due to Original Sin, by which we mean that every human person is inclined towards perversions of true goods (other terms for this reality include "concupiscence" or the "passions"). For the Baptized, these are now occasions of merit, because we share in divine life (sanctifying grace). However, we need to cooperate with sacramental grace and other actual graces to rectify and direct these desires towards their proper ends which are in conformity with our true good, ultimately, God Himself and the life of heaven.

Thus, in our prayer, we seek the help of God's grace in order to love Him with an undivided heart. Conversion is a matter of the heart, by which we mean the will, and it means turning away from one thing and being inclined towards another, i.e. what the prayer calls "heavenly desires." In the Mass, we seek to give God the interior sacrifice of our will, so that we may desire and love Him in an undivided way as our Highest Good, and to love all other creatures in proper reference to Him. Essentially, we are talking about the theological virtue of charity.

This petition echoes promises in the Old Testament which anticipated the work of the Holy Spirit, who alone brings about real conversion by an infusion of grace in the heart. For example, we hear the following in the Prophet Ezekiel:

"I will sprinkle clean water upon you, and you shall be clean from all your uncleannesses, and from all your idols I will cleanse you. A new heart I will give you, and a new spirit I will put within you; and I will take out of your flesh the heart of stone and give you a heart of flesh. And I will put My spirit within you, and cause you to walk in My statutes and be careful to observe My ordinances" (Ez. 36:25-27, RSV).

Ultimately, the idolatry of the stony heart (the will) spoken of by Ezekiel is the reality of Original Sin as well as the "disordered earthly desires" that we see in today's prayer. If we want to be truly happy, let us allow God's grace to heal us and direct us towards Himself. Let us be taken up by Christ in the movement towards the Father, where the Object of healed desire can be found, known, and loved

LATIN MASS PROPERS: LAST SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

INTROIT: Jeremias 29. 11, 12, 14; Psalm 84. 2 The Lord saith: I think thoughts of peace, and not of affliction: you shall call upon Me, and I will hear you; and I will bring back your captivity from all places. Ps. 84. 2. Lord, Thou hast blessed Thy land: Thou hast turned away the captivity of Jacob. V̄. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen. — The Lord ...

COLLECT Stir up, we beseech Thee, O Lord, the wills of Thy faithful to seek more earnestly this fruit of the divine work, that they will receive more abundantly healing gifts from Thy tender mercy. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Who with Thee liveth and reigneth in the unity of the Holy Ghost, God, world without end.

EPISTLE: From Blessed Paul the Apostle to the Colossians, I. 9-14. Brethren: We cease not to pray for you, and to beg that you may be filled with the knowledge of the will of God, in all wisdom and spiritual understanding; that you may walk worthy of God, in all things pleasing, being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God; strengthened with all might according to the power of His glory, in all patience and long suffering with joy; giving thanks to God the Father, who hath made us worthy to be partakers of the lot of the saints in light: Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of the Son of His love, in whom we have redemption through His blood, the remission of sins.

GRADUAL: Psalm 43. 8-9 Thou hast saved us, O Lord, from them that afflict us: and hast put them to shame that hate us. In God we will glory all the day long: and in Thy Name we will give praise for ever. ALLELUIA Alleluia, alleluia. Psalm 129. 1-2 Out of the depths I have cried to Thee, O Lord: Lord, hear my voice. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Continuation of the holy Gospel according to St. Matthew, 24. 13-25. At that time, Jesus said to His disciples: When you shall see the abomination of desolation, which was spoken of by Daniel the Prophet, standing in the holy place; (he that readeth, let him understand:) then they that are in Judea, let them flee to the mountains; and he that is on the housetop, let him not come down to take anything out of his house; and he that is in the field, let him not go back to take his coat. And woe to them that are with child and that give suck, in those days. But pray that your flight be not in the winter, or on the sabbath: for there shall be then great tribulation, such as hath not been found from the beginning of the world until now, neither shall be: and unless those days had been shortened, no flesh should be saved; but for the sake of the elect, those days shall be shortened. Then if any man shall say to you: Lo here is Christ, or there; do not believe him; for there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall show great signs and wonders, insomuch as to deceive (if possible) even the elect. Behold I have told it to you beforehand. If therefore they shall say to you: Behold He is in the desert, go ye not out; Behold He is in the closets, believe it not. For as lightning cometh out of the east, and appeareth even into the west, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be. Wheresoever the body shall be, there shall the eagles also be gathered together. And immediately after the tribulation of those days, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of heaven shall be moved; and then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven, and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn; and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with much power and majesty. And He shall send His angels with a trumpet and a loud voice, and they shall gather together His elect from the four winds, from the farthest parts of the heavens to the utmost bounds of them. And from the fig-tree learn a parable: when the branch thereof is now tender, and the leaves come forth, you know that summer is nigh. So you also, when you shall see all these things, know ye that it is nigh even at the doors. Amen I say to you that this generation shall not pass till all these things be done. Heaven and earth shall pass away, but My words shall not pass away.

OFFERTORY: Psalm 129. 1-2 Out of the depths have I cried to Thee, O Lord; Lord, hear my voice. Out of the depths have I cried to Thee, O Lord.

SECRET: Be gracious, O Lord, to our humble entreaties: receive the offerings and prayers of Thy people, and turn to Thyself the hearts of us all; and thus freed from earthly covetings, may we be caught by heavenly desires. Through our Lord ...

COMMUNION: Mark II. 24 Amen I say to you, whatsoever you ask when you pray, believe that you shall receive and it shall be done to you.

POSTCOMMUNION: Grant unto us, we beseech Thee, O Lord, that through these Sacraments which we have received, whatsoever is in our minds corrupt, may be cured by the gift of their power to heal. Through our Lord ...
