ABOUT OUR PARISH

Welcome, New Parishioners and Sunday Visitors:

Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Parish is a canonically open parish of the Archdiocese of Boston, which has a Traditional Latin Mass apostolate. Both the ordinary form of the Roman Rite (1970 Missal) and the extraordinary form (1962 Missal) are celebrated here with the blessing of His Eminence Sean Cardinal O'Malley, Archbishop of Boston. We encourage new parishioners to please register in the parish and to introduce yourselves to the Pastor. We are always glad to welcome Sunday visitors here to our beautiful, historic church. We look forward to your coming again.

PLEASE TAKE THE TIME TO FILL OUT A PARISH REGISTRATION FORM.

Parish Mission Statement

“What then is a parish? It is the smallest section of the one universal flock which has been entrusted to Peter by the Lord.

Under the authority of a responsible priest who has received the care of souls from his bishop, the parish is, within the Church of Jesus Christ, the first community of Christian life; it is a community cut to human dimensions, in which the shepherd can know his flock and the flock can know their shepherd ... At the heart of this area, we find the parish church with its bell-tower, its baptistery, its confessional, its altar and tabernacle, a symbol of unity and the centre of community life.”

SCENES FROM OUR 2019 PARISH PICNIC

Thanks to parishioner Rod Phillips we have these wonderful photos to enjoy of our Parish Picnic last Sunday. Rod is continuing and building on the photographic record of our parish life begun by our late parishioner Paul Eldridge in 2008.

I want to express an especial thanks to our parish secretary Margie Bibbo, who was the master planner and organizer for this event once more, and to our parish religious education co-ordinators Jean Johnson and Patti Strom for all of their work together with Margie to “make it happen”. Special thanks its also due to Neil Steinkraus and his sons who brought their own grill and worked it tirelessly to provide us all with the most delicious grilled meats for our barbecue.

*EXPOSITION OF THE PSALMS OF THE LITTLE OFFICE OF
THE BLESSED VIRGIN MARY*

PSALM 147

We continue our examination of the five vesperal psalms and antiphons in the Little Office of the Blessed Virgin Mary (English texts are taken from the Douai-Rheims Challoner version).

The fifth psalm of Vespers in the Little Office is Psalm 147: Lauda Jerusalem Dominum, “Praise the Lord, O Jerusalem.” This psalm shares a great deal in common with Psalm 121, which we examined two weeks ago. The psalmist’s celebration of Jerusalem’s prosperity, as well as the unique election of Israel as the recipient of divine revelation are two of its main themes.

Like the Israelites of old, we rightly rejoice in the temporal gifts God has given: “For He hath strengthened the bars of thy gates: He hath blessed thy children within thee” (v. 13). We also marvel at how God upholds creation by the word of his mouth: “He sendeth forth His commandment on the earth: His word runneth very swiftly” (v. 15). At the same time, as we have seen in our previous columns, we must interpret this psalm even further in light of Christ and the Church. Thus, we understand Jerusalem here as the image both of the heavenly Jerusalem, that is, the Church Triumphant, as well as the Church Militant on earth, according to the interpretation of St. Robert Bellarmine (among others). Both possess the fullness of God’s gifts for mankind, albeit in differing respects.

Bellarmino stresses the fullness of the heavenly Jerusalem in his interpretation of this psalm, rather than the fullness of the Church Militant in her means of grace. Thus, when we pray this psalm, we are making an act of hope, because we desire and expect the fullness of God’s glory and beauty in heaven. In heaven, we will no longer need the means of grace the Church provides for us here, for we shall possess the vision of God Himself forever.

I would suggest, however, (not as a means of disagreeing with Bellarmine, but simply as a means of expanding the focus of our exegesis) that when we praise God for His abundant blessings in this psalm, we must joyfully affirm the abundance of the means of grace in the Church, even if she does not yet experience the fullness of the heavenly Jerusalem (Bellarmine’s main point). I suggest this, because so many contemporary attacks against the Church ultimately serve to diminish peoples’ appreciation for the means of grace which She alone provides. When we pray this psalm, therefore, we may celebrate the great privilege of having access to everything Christ revealed and provided for our redemption and sanctification in this life. Thus, we give thanks for the “fatness of corn,” which is the abundant provision of the Eucharist (v. 14; cf. Jn. 6; Chrysostom, Bellarmine).

Since we recognize in this psalm how privileged we are as members of the Church, we also discern a call to evangelization: “He maketh known His word unto Jacob: His statutes and ordinances unto Israel. He hath not dealt so with any nation: neither hath He shewed them His judgments” (vv. 19-20). The psalmist offers a strong counter to the religious indifferentism that often threatened His peoples’ faith (we need to hear this message, too). Our Lord is the fullness of divine revelation (Heb. 1:1-2), and He commands us to make Him known (Mt. 28:19-20).

The final Marian antiphon in the Little Office which accompanies this psalm is not drawn from the Song of Songs, like the previous four antiphons: “Thou art become beautiful and sweet in thy delights, O holy Mother of God.” This expresses simply and beautifully a recurring truth: (continued on page 7...)

“Mary is the symbol and the most perfect realization of the Church” (cf. Catechism of the Catholic Church nos. 507, 796, 967). As we cultivate our prayer life, we do well to taste something of the sweetness of Mary, as many Marian authors teach us, such as St. Louis de Montfort. May we experience the grace of her motherly care in her Son’s beloved Church!

LATIN MASS PROPERS: FOURTEENTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

INTROIT: Psalm 83. 10, 11 BEHOLD, O God, our protector, and look on the face of Thy Christ: for better is one day in Thy courts above thousands. Ps. ibid. 2. How lovely are Thy tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! my soul longeth and fainteth for the courts of the Lord. V. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen. — Behold, O God ...

COLLECT FAVOR Thy Church unceasingly, O Lord, we beseech Thee, and keep her safe: and because apart from Thee frail man is wont to fall, may she by Thy help be ever withdrawn from harm and guided in good. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Who liveth and reigneth with Thee in the unity of the Holy Ghost, God, world without end.

EPISTLE: From the Letter of Blessed Paul the Apostle to the Galatians, 5. 16-24. BRETHREN: Walk in the spirit, and you shall not fulfill the lusts of the flesh: for the flesh lusteth against the spirit, and the spirit against the flesh; for these are contrary one to another; so that you do not the things that you would. But if you are led by the spirit, you are not under the law. Now the works of the flesh are manifest; which are fornication, uncleanness, immodesty, luxury, idolatry, witchcrafts, enmities, contentions, emulations, wraths, quarrels, dissensions, sects, envies, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like; of the which I foretell you, as I have foretold to you, that they who do such things shall not obtain the Kingdom of God. But the fruit of the Spirit is, charity, joy, peace, patience, benignity, goodness, longanimity, mildness, faith, modesty, continency, chastity. Against such there is no law. And they that are Christ's have crucified their flesh with the vices and concupiscences.

GRADUAL: Psalm 117. 8-9 . IT is good to confide in the Lord, rather than to have confidence in man. It is good to trust in the Lord, rather than to trust in princes. ALLELUIA: Psalm 94. 1. Alleluia, alleluia. Come, let Come, let us praise the Lord with joy; let us joyfully sing to God our Savior. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Continuation of the holy Gospel according to St. Matthew, 6. 24-33. AT THAT TIME, Jesus said to His disciples: No man can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one and love the other, or he will sustain the one and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon. Therefore I say to you, be not solicitous for your life, what you shall eat, nor for your body, what you shall put on. Is not the life more than the meat, and the body more than the raiment? Behold the birds of the air; for they neither sow nor do they reap, nor gather into barns, and your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are you not of much more value than they? And which of you, by taking thought, can add to his stature one cubit? And for raiment why are you solicitous? Consider the lilies of the field, how they grow; they labor not, neither do they spin; but I say to you, that not even Solomon in all his glory was arrayed as one of these. Now if God so clothe the grass of the field, which is today, and tomorrow is cast into the oven, how much more you, O ye of little faith! Be not solicitous therefore saying: What shall we eat, or what shall we drink, or wherewith shall we be clothed? for after all these things do the heathens seek. For your Father knoweth that you have need of all these things. Seek ye therefore first the Kingdom of God, and His justice; and all these things shall be added unto you.

OFFERTORY: Psalm 33. 8-9 THE Angel of the Lord shall encamp round about them that fear Him, and shall deliver them: O taste and see that the Lord is sweet!

SECRET: GRANT us, we beseech Thee, O Lord: that through this saving Victim our sins may be cleansed and Thy might appeased. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, Thy Son ...

COMMUNION: Matthew 6. 33 SEEK ye first the Kingdom of God: and all things shall be added unto you, saith the Lord.

POSTCOMMUNION: MAY Thy Sacraments, O God, ever cleanse and defend us: and lead us to the attainment of eternal salvation. Through our Lord ...
