ABOUT OUR PARISH

Welcome, New Parishioners and Sunday Visitors:

Mary Immaculate of Lourdes Parish is a canonically open parish of the Archdiocese of Boston, which has a Traditional Latin Mass apostolate. Both the ordinary form of the Roman Rite (1970 Missal) and the extraordinary form (1962 Missal) are celebrated here with the blessing of His Eminence Sean Cardinal O'Malley, Archbishop of Boston. We encourage new parishioners to please register in the parish and to introduce yourselves to the Pastor. We are always glad to welcome Sunday visitors here to our beautiful, historic church. We look forward to your coming again.

PLEASE TAKE THE TIME TO FILL OUT A PARISH REGISTRATION FORM.

FRONT COVER: Photograph of St. John Henry Cardinal Newman towards the end of his life, 1801-1890. A convert from Anglicanism, Cardinal Newman was later ordained a Catholic priest and made a Cardinal. His service to the Church has been rendered by a great body of theological writing, particularly in the area of Apologetics. He is raised to the altars of the Church today in Rome as a canonized Saint by Pope Francis. His feast day is October 9th, the date of his reception into the Church in 1845.

Parish Mission Statement

"What then is a parish? It is the smallest section of the one universal flock which has been entrusted to Peter by the Lord.

Under the authority of a responsible priest who has received the care of souls from his bishop, the parish is, within the Church of Jesus Christ, the first community of Christian life; it is a community cut to human dimensions, in which the shepherd can know his flock and the flock can know their shepherd ... At the heart of this area, we find the parish church with its bell-tower, its baptistery, its confessional, its altar and tabernacle, a symbol of unity and the centre of community life."

(Pope Saint Paul VI, reigned 1964-1978)

OCTOBER, THE MONTH OF "RESPECT-FOR-HUMAN-LIFE"

While the Rosary holds the pride of place for devotion during this Month of October the theme of "Respect-for-Human-Life" is given prominence for its urgency in the moral and social realm. The Catechism of the Catholic Church (CCC) gives the Church's teaching on the sacredness and dignity of all human life in Article 5 of its section on the Second Great Precept of Charity, "Thou Shalt Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself", the Fifth Commandment— "Thou shalt not kill."

The Catechism lays out the basis for the Church's moral positions in the following way:

"Human life is sacred because from its beginning it involves the creative action of God and it remains forever in a special relationship with the Creator, who is its sole end. God alone is the Lord of life from its beginning until its end: no-one can under any circumstance claim for himself the right to directly destroy an innocent human being." (PAR 2258)

These words are worth reading and re-reading in order for us to have great clarity of mind about the principle which undergirds the whole of the Church's moral claims about what may and may not be done regarding our human life. We want to make sure that we are not reacting based upon how strongly we feel about something, one way or the other. Strong feeling, untethered from sound and reasonable moral principle, can just as easily lead us to into error as well as truth. Our Catholic Church does indeed have a sound and reasonable moral principle out of which she is drawing her various conclusions on the right and wrong of things like abortion or euthanasia.

The Catechism's Article 5 divides the presentation of the "Life Issues" into three sections: I. Respect for Human Life, II. Respect for the Dignity of Persons, III. Safeguarding Peace.

Respect for Human Life explains the wrongfulness of, first of all, intentional homicide (wilful murder). It then goes on to specifically critique other forms of killing: abortion, euthanasia, and suicide. In any discussion we might have with someone who is not convinced that legal protection of the right-to-life of the unborn is "anybody else's business" it is crucial that we ourselves have a correct understanding of the Church's teaching here and that we be able to lay it out in an even-tempered and respectful way.

Respect for the Dignity of Persons addresses the sins of scandal, temperance and intemperance of the body, and other ways in which the dignity of persons may be violated.

Safeguarding peace treats of the duty we have to preserve peace and to avoid war. Indeed, the first murder of Abel by his brother Cain reaches it's apogee in the mass-murder which occurs during war-fare.

Insofar as men are sinners, the threat of war hangs over them and will so continue until Christ comes again; but insofar as they can vanquish sin by coming together in charity, violence itself will be vanquished and these words will be fulfilled: "they shall beat their swords into ploughshares...neither shall they learn war any more." (PAR 2317)

"GRATITUDE IS THE THING THAT BRINGS US THE MOST GRACE...I HAVE LEARNT THIS FROM EXPERIENCE; TRY IT AND YOU WILL SEE. I AM CONTENT WITH WHATEVER GOD GIVES ME, AND I SHOW HIM THIS IN A THOUSAND LITTLE WAYS."—ST. THERESE OF LISIEUX (+1897)

ST. JOHN HENRY NEWMAN

Today marks the canonization of John Henry Cardinal Newman, a preeminently influential thinker, preacher, writer, and convert in the nineteenth century. The following is the Collect for his feast, as found in the CTS hand missal for the Catholic dioceses of England and Wales:

“O God, who bestowed on the Priest Blessed John Henry Newman the grace to follow Your kindly light and find peace in Your Church, graciously grant that through his intercession and example we may be led out of shadows and images into the fullness of Your truth. Through our Lord, etc. Amen.”

This Collect’s ascription clause quotes Newman’s classic hymn “Lead Kindly Light,” which he wrote as young Anglican priest on a sea voyage from Italy back to England. Having recovered from a serious illness, he appeals to God’s benevolent providence with a newfound sense of humility and reliance upon His sovereignty.

Like Newman, we too must grow in humility, and seek to conform our lives to God’s program for us, relying fully upon His transcendent love in all things (cf. Rom. 8). The ideal Christian posture toward God is always the child-like faith Christ proposes to us at various points in the Gospel (cf. Mt. 6:25-34, 11:25-30, 18:1-4). Likewise, we must have the humility to recognize our ongoing need for conversion of mind and heart. Newman experienced this acutely as his efforts to catholicize the Church of England eventually led him to a profound re-evaluation of his “Anglican difficulties” with the Roman Church. This was quite a humbling experience for him.

Many Catholics today of various ideological stripes might also consider how their religious and political beliefs line up with the teaching of the Church

(this, of course, presumes that one first learn what that teaching really is). The humility that can often come from such an examen can be immensely fruitful, just as it was for Newman. It can lead to a greater realization of the true immensity and power of the Church’s faith, which utterly transcends our intellectual limitations and ideological distortions. When divine truth pulverizes our idols, grace expands our minds and hearts to adore God more genuinely and humbly, while simultaneously enkindling within us an increased charity for our neighbor.

The Collect’s petition references the epitaph on Newman’s gravestone: “out of shadows and images into the truth.” This Platonic phrase echoes the teaching of St. Paul in his comparison of our knowledge of God in this life vs. our knowledge of Him in eternity: “For now we see in a mirror dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part; then I shall understand fully, even as I have been fully understood” (1 Cor. 13:12, RSV).

Newman had an intense passion for the truth, as is evidenced in his life-long study of Christian doctrine. His remarkably penetrating grasp of the faith should prompt us to grow more deeply in our understanding of the faith. If we want to be ready to face the blinding radiance of God’s face at the moment of death- an awesome and sobering truth- then our growth in charity (the sine qua non for entrance into heaven) also rightly demands a concomitant growth in our knowledge of God as He wants to be known (i.e., in the Church via Scripture and Tradition).

Too often today, we find a relativistic posture toward faith which may be characterized as the “anything goes” approach, which typically finds its foundation apart from revealed doctrine. Such a liberalized notion of faith finds its intellectual roots in liberal Protestant religious thought of the nineteenth century. This was a pernicious and corrosive trend against which Newman fought with great zeal, both as an Anglican and as a Catholic. The good news the Church proposes, however, is that doctrine matters, for Jesus Christ is the fullness of both truth and love, as St. John tells us in the Prologue of his Gospel (cf. Jn. 1:14).

LATIN MASS PROPERS: EIGHTEENTH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

INTROIT: Ecclesiastes 36. 18. Give peace, O Lord, to them that patiently wait for Thee, that Thy prophets may be found faithful: hear the prayers of Thy servant, and of Thy people Israel. Ps. 121. 1. I rejoiced at the things that were said to me: we shall go into the house of the Lord. ℟. Glory be to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, world without end. Amen. — Give peace

COLLECT LET Thy continual pity, O Lord, cleanse and defend Thy Church: and because it cannot continue in safety without Thee, may it ever be governed by Thy goodness. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Who liveth and reigneth with Thee in the unity of the Holy Ghost, God, world without end.

EPISTLE: From the Letter of Blessed Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians, 1. 4-8. Brethren: I give thanks to my God always for you, for the grace of God that is given you in Jesus Christ, that in all things you are made rich in Him in all utterance and in all knowledge, as the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you; so that nothing is wanting to you in any grace, waiting for the manifestation of our Lord Jesus Christ. Who also will confirm you unto the end without crime, in the day of the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

GRADUAL: Psalm 127. 1, 7. I rejoiced at the things that were said to me: We shall go into the house of our Lord. Let peace be in thy strength, and abundance in Thy towers. ALLELUIA: Psalm 94. 3. Alleluia, Alleluia. The Gentiles shall fear Thy Name, O Lord: and all the kings of the earth Thy glory. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Continuation of the holy Gospel according to St. Matthew, 9. 1-8. At that time Jesus, entering into a boat, passed over the water and came into His own city. And behold they brought Him one sick of the palsy lying in a bed; and Jesus seeing their faith, said to the man sick of the palsy: Be of good heart, son, thy sins are forgiven thee. And behold some of the scribes said within themselves: He blasphemeth. And Jesus seeing their thoughts, said: Why do you think evil in your hearts? whether is easier to say: Thy sins are forgiven thee; or to say: Arise and walk? But that you may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins (then said He to the man sick of the palsy): Arise, take up thy bed, and go into thy house. And he arose, and went into his house. And the multitude seeing it feared and glorified God who had given such power to men. —

OFFERTORY: Exodus 24. 4, 5. MOSES consecrated an altar to the Lord, offering upon it holocausts, and sacrificing victims: he made an evening sacrifice to the Lord God for an odor of sweetness, in the sight of the children of Israel.

SECRET: O GOD, who, by Thy venerable intercourse with us in this Sacrifice dost make us partakers of the one Supreme Godhead: grant, we beseech Thee, that as we know Thy truth, so we may follow it by worthy lives. Through our Lord ...

COMMUNION: Psalm 95. 8-9. BRING up sacrifices, and come into His courts: adore ye the Lord in His holy court.

POSTCOMMUNION: WE have been renewed, O Lord, by Thy sacred Gift, and thank Thee, beseeching Thee in Thy mercy to make us worthy partakers in It. Through our Lord ...
